Bramble the teddy bear lived in Dreamland. He hoped one day he would go to a child.

All the toys in Dreamland waited for their special child.
Bramble waited too.

One night, a warm golden light
touched Bramble's paw.
It told him a little boy needed
his first teddy bear.

Bramble took a deep breath
and felt brave.

He began his trip down
the Dream Path.

The path led past soft clouds and floating feathers.

Bramble wondered what the boy would be like.

Bramble reached the shiny Moon Gate at the end of Dreamland. He stepped through it slowly.

He landed in a quiet bedroom in the real world.

A little boy was sleeping in his bed.

Bramble hopped on the bed and sat down. The boy opened his eyes and sat up smiling at Bramble.

Bramble snuggled into the boy's arms. Bramble felt safe and happy.

The boy hugged Bramble and fell back asleep.

Bramble knew he had found
his new home.
